

Mt. Washington Community Council June 2017 Membership Meeting

| Reports | Presenter | Summary |
|---------|---------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| CRC | Mandy Bello | Blue Bash on July the 8th, to celebrate 90th birthday of the CRC in Oakley. Sky Hawks sports camps, soccer and multi sport camps have room for new kids. CRC is trying to get licensed to get vouchers for the "After-School" program, since the paid program is losing students. |
| FIRE | Robert Howell | Fireworks should be left to the hands of the professionals. Too many ER visits for fireworks related injuries. A lot to the appendages and to the head. Especially a risk for 5-9 year olds, and then for teenagers. Dry weather makes them even more dangerous. Check out the Fire Cods for what is legal to use. Fire prevention number is 357-7596; 357-7597 |
| POLICE | Kevin Butler | Burglaries are up overall since January, as are robberies. Lock cars, secure valuables, etc |

| Officer and Committee Updates | Summary | Actions Taken/Follow-up Needed |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| President Report Alex | Some good changes to report | Sweets and Meats is opening a brick and mortar store in July 12th at 11am. Kristin Bailey, a Mt. Washington resident, started it. Cincinnati City Council passed it's budget today and it kept the NSP budget the same. We will present our budget in July. |
| Secretary Elissa | Approve minutes | By acclamation, minutes were approved. |
| Citizens on Patrol Bill | | Successful patrol and always looking for folks to take part. Email us at info@MWCC.org to get on the list to participate. |
| SPAC Wade | Farmer's market has started! Good vendors - local stuff. | Honey, leatherworks, baked goods, produce, meats, dog treats. |
| Mt. Washington Cares Rick | Thursday, June 29th, 6:30-8pm, opiate education and training on how to administer NARCAN. | Come to meetings! Next meeting is August 3rd at Mt. Washington Baptist Church. |

| Officer and Committee Updates | Summary | Actions Taken/Follow-up Needed |
|-------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Transportation Wade | Like to have a meeting sometime soon to help traffic flow and pedestrian use easier. Question: Glade has become Interstate like - especially in certain parts. Are sidewalks possible? | The key to getting the city to do something is persistence. A four-way stop is probably doable. When crashes happen, the city is more likely to act. There is a city of Cincinnati "Street Calming" program. curtis.hines@cincinnati-oh.gov . Speed Guns is another option. You can get them from District Two. |
| Community Engagement Wade | We reprinted the POST-CARDS to distribute to community members. | Movie scheduled for this weekend is postponed due to prediction of rain. |

— Respectfully submitted Elissa Pogue